DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-29 were examined.

Section I: Final Rejection

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

3. Claims 1-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claims lack a specified utility or application. Specifically, the steps within the claim don't perform the claim invention, thus fail to produce a tangible result.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 1 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 1's preamble is unsupportive of the simulation operation of a production system.

Section II: Response to Arguments

103(a)

6. Applicants are thanked for addressing this issue. Rejection is withdrawn.

101

7. Applicants are thanked for addressing this issue; however the arguments are not persuasive. Applicants state simulating operation of a production system but this production system is not application specific. Rejection stands.

112

Assertive Utility/Support within the Specification

8. Applicants are thanked for addressing these issues. Rejections are withdrawn.

Preamble

9. Applicants are thanked for addressing these issues. Specifically, the recited steps in the preamble fail to denote how to accomplish "simulating operation of a production system". In short, the body of the claims are lacking steps.

Claim Terms

10. The rejection to the phrases "average time" and "good unit is withdrawn.

Citation to Relevant Prior Art

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure:

Jackson et al., "Real Time Discrete Event Simulation of a PCB Production System for Operational Support" 1997 Winter Simulation Conference pg.832-837: teaches discrete simulation of a production system.

Conclusion

11. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
